

BC Transplant:

The Gift of Life Tree –

The gift of life is something that so far this year, 363 people have received thanks to life-saving organ transplants and the generosity of donors and their families across the province.

BC Transplant is an agency of the Provincial Health Services Authority (PHSA) that provides provincial oversight for all aspects of organ donation and transplantation in BC. We work to raise awareness for organ donation so patients in our province can get the transplants they need, and so that organ donation can be an end-of-life option for as many people as possible.

One organ donor can save up to eight lives, so we ask all British Columbians to register their decision and have a conversation with their family about being an organ donor. Register today at transplant.bc.ca.
